An integration course is a German course with a total of 700 teaching units (á 45 minutes): 600 hours of language course and 100 hours of German culture, history and politics. Integration courses are financially supported by the BAMF.

When will the integration courses take place?

At the moment courses take place in the morning (5 or 4 times a week) or in the evening (3 or 4 times a week).

New courses usually start every 6 to 8 weeks. The current dates can be found on our homepage:

Who can participate in integration courses?

All people who have recently immigrated to Germany, asylum seekers and foreigners who have been living in Germany for a long time can participate.

Do I need to take a placement test?

Yes, you must take a placement test (approximately 45 minutes) before registering. With the help of the test result, we will find the right course for you.

Please arrange the right date for the placement test with the vhs administration

What exams can I take at the vhs?

After the integration course, you can take the DTZ German test for immigrants (A2 - B1) and the orientation course test (living in Germany). In addition, B2 tests are held regularly.

What does A1, A2, B1, B2...mean?

The letters stand for the language level. This describes how well you can speak, write and understand a language.

What do I have to pay for the integration course?

With a permit, you receive a cost exemption or financial support from the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees.

Integration courses are also open to immigrants
without BAMF funding
